

Brian Hook is an American diplomat, foreign policy strategist and investment executive who currently serves as Vice Chairman of Cerberus Global Investments. He previously served as U.S. Special Representative for Iran and Senior Advisor to Secretaries of State Rex Tillerson and Mike Pompeo, as well as Director of the State Department's Policy Planning Staff. A key figure in the Trump administration's foreign policy, he helped shape U.S. strategy towards Iran and the Indo-Pacific and was part of the team that negotiated the Abraham Peace Accords.

TOPICS:

- U.S. Foreign Policy and Geopolitics
- Iran and North Korea
- Middle East Diplomacy and Security
- The Abraham Peace Accords
- Global Security and Strategic Competition
- The Indo-Pacific and U.S.-China Relations
- Economic Sanctions and International Relations
- Diplomatic Leadership and Crisis Management

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

Before entering the private sector, Brian held several senior positions in the U.S. Department of State, including Director of the Policy Planning Staff from 2017 to 2018 and U.S. Special Representative for Iran from 2018 to 2020. During his government service, he played a central role in developing and implementing U.S. policy towards Iran, including the maximum-pressure sanctions strategy and diplomatic efforts to secure the release of American detainees. Earlier in his career, he held senior positions in the George W. Bush administration, including Assistant Secretary of State for International Organization Affairs.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Brian Hook provides audiences with an insider's understanding of the forces shaping international relations. He explores the complexities of U.S. foreign policy, the evolving geopolitical landscape of the Middle East, relations with Iran and China, economic sanctions and the strategic importance of international alliances.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

His presentations connect complex political developments with their wider economic and security implications, helping audiences understand the motivations behind international decisions and the challenges facing governments and business leaders.

© 2026 Celebrity Speakers Ltd