'Agent provocateur' and a '...leading revolutionary' Financial Times

In detail

Eddie and his team have spent the best part of a decade re-writing the fundamentals of business management to create their own coherent, joined up New World approach. They have challenged all the established thinking from strategy as environmental fit to 'hero' leaders and re-interpreted the needs for the 21st century of complexity and fast change. Eddie brings genuinely new concepts, materials and practice. He has written up some of his work in over 12 books.

What he offers you

If you're after the 'same old - same old' Eddie is not the speaker for you. Using his extensive experience and insights he will challenge your perceptions and help you to see the new reality. But more than just 'talking concepts' he will use examples from real life client assignments to illustrate and explain, proving, in his words that "The future is now because most of us are already late!". Eddie is a genuine leader. He has the ability to bring a presentation to life, engage and involve the audience often on a tough thinking journey. Eddie's legendary reputation for injecting energy means he is often offered the tough post-lunch 'graveyard slot' at many conferences.

How he presents

Eddie is an exciting, energising, thought-provoking, rigorous and humorous speaker, outspoken and direct, highly inspiring and never afraid to be controversial. His captivating presentations are incredibly energetic and he is renowned as a powerful presenter and a wonderful speaker.
