The Greatest German Footballer of All Time

CSA Celebrity Speakers Ltd

Franz Beckenbauer is internationally known as a world cup winning footballer and coach. Voted twice as European Footballer of the Year, he is the only man to have won the World Cup both as a player and as a manager. During the 2006 World Cup he showed true leadership as Chairman of the Organising Committee.

"No other footballer, as an innovator and as a winner, ever reached such heights as Franz Beckenbauer"

In detail

Franz Beckenbauer was part of the Bayern Munich team promoted to the Bundesliga in 1965, and a succession of honours quickly followed: four German championships, four Cup winners' medals, three European Cup triumphs, the Cup Winners' Cup and the World Club Cup - all of them with Bayern. However, the Kaiser's crowning glory as a player was a World Cup winner's medal in 1974. After 396 Bundesliga appearances and 44 goals, he left Bayern in 1977, to play out his career with the New York Cosmos. He became team manager and later President of Bayern Munich. In 2006 he led Germany's successful bid to host the World Cup and was Chairman of the Organising Committee.
