CSA Celebrity Speakers Ltd

Frederick Reichheld is the Director and Founder of Bain & Company's Loyalty Practice, specialising in helping clients achieve superior results through improvements in customer, employee, and investor loyalty. His pioneering work in the area of customer retention has quantified the link between loyalty, profit and growth.

"Reichheld debunked the notion that loyalty was dead. [He] put loyalty economics on the map" The New York Times

In detail

Frederick Reichheld graduated with Honors both from Harvard College and Harvard Business School. He joined Bain in 1977 and was elected to the partnership in 1982. In addition to founding and leading Bain & Company's Loyalty Practice, he served the firm in a variety of roles including membership on its Worldwide Management, Nominating, and Compensation Committees. In January 1999, he was elected by the firm to become the first Bain Fellow - a half-time position that enables him to focus primarily on research and writing. His work has been widely covered in international press.

What he offers you

In his presentations, Fred Reichheld demonstrates that loyalty is vital for customer retention and long-term profit growth. He recommends loyalty-based management, in which businesses not only make a conscious effort to retain customers but also develop strategies for attracting clients who are likely to remain loyal especially in today's volatile, high-speed economy. Fred Reichheld also posits a cause-and-effect relationship between employee and customer loyalty.

How he presents

Audiences around the world consistently rate Frederick Reichheld as an outstanding communicator. He makes a powerful economic case for loyalty-and takes you through the numbers to prove it.
