"One of the top ten comedians in the country" The Independent

In detail

Ian has written for shows including Russell Howard's Good News, BBC One's The Omid Djalili show, Alistair McGowan's Big Impression and You Cannot Be Serious. Ian regularly performs at the Edinburgh Festival, taking up successful shows in 2007-9. He also performed his own show for Udderbelly at the Southbank in 2011-13. Highlights of Stone's stand-up career have included compering at the Cape Town Comedy Festival, performing to British Troops in Afghanistan, in the final transatlantic crossing of The QE2, and being the first ever compère at The Comedy Store in Mumbai. He regularly appears at The Comedy Store in London.

What he offers you

Ian Stone is intelligent and likeable and has the audience in the palm of his hand from the second he steps on stage. His skills as a comedian is in highlighting the stupidity of the common man through beautifully crafted stories, peppered with gags and asides, hilarious throughout. Not a word is wasted in his clever telling of his world view.

How he presents

Edgy and provocative, with an easy-going manner and self-depreciating style, Ian is at great ease bantering with an audience.

Languages

He presents in English.
