"I believe that networked platforms will reconfigure society and business forever"

In detail

Sangeet Choudary was head of innovation and new ventures for Intuit Asia-Pacific, a founding member of TxtWeb and was responsible for managing Yahoo's largest M&A investment in South Asia. He is the co-chair of the MIT Platform Strategy Summit and industry advisor to the Global Platform Data Project at Stanford University, the first large-scale effort to quantify the business impact of platforms globally.

What he offers you

In the age of Airbnb, Uber and Coursera, platforms are rapidly disrupting traditional industries. In a connected world, the platform approach is increasingly more important, and yet, poorly understood. In his presentations Sangeet Choudary advises decision makers from a wide range of businesses how networks transform every industry and social systems.

How he presents

Passionate about technology and networks, Sangeet's theoretical depth and storytelling is well received by audiences around the globe.
