CSA Celebrity Speakers Ltd

Sterling Anderson is a world expert in autonomous vehicle technology. Sterling led Tesla's Model X program from its first development build through launch and served as the Director of Tesla Autopilot from its release on the first generation platform through design, development, and launch of the second.

"Automating the driving task -- even in phases -- is an imperative too urgent to wait for perfection"

In detail

In 2016, Sterling left Tesla to co-found Aurora with Chris Urmson and Drew Bagnell - fellow self-driving pioneers and creators of Google's and Uber's respective self-driving programs. In the late 2000's, his work in shared autonomy paved the way for broad advances in cooperative control of human-machine systems. Sterling received his Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 2012.
