

Lord Rose of Monewden

Chairman of Ocado and Former Chairman of Marks & Spencer

CSA Celebrity Speakers Ltd

Lord Rose is recognised as one of the leading lights in British retail. Since leaving M&S in 2011, he has worked similar magic for other businesses and is currently an independent non-executive director and chairman designate of the online retailer Ocado.

"A leading authority in retail and management"

In detail

Lord Rose started his retail career as a management trainee at Marks & Spencer in 1972, gradually gaining experience and rising through the ranks. After almost twenty years with the company, he moved on to become the Chief Executive of Burton Group. His success within the role saw him move on to senior positions at other retailers, including Argos, Booker Plc (which merged with Iceland to become Big Food Group under his leadership) and Arcadia Group. He returned to M&S in 2004 and is currently a non-executive chairman of Dressipi.com and non-executive director of Woolworths Holdings Ltd. He was knighted in 2008 for his services to the retail industry.

What he offers you

With a well earned and established reputation in Britain's retail sector, Lord Rose is ideally placed to offer audiences insights into the secrets of his ongoing success. In his presentations, he considers the lessons learned about organisational change, and how to navigate turbulent trading conditions.

How he presents

Confident and professional Lord Rose transmits the energy which he used to transform several UK retail giants to eager audiences as his talks, recounting experiences and offering invaluable advice.

Languages

He presents in English.

Want to know more?

Give us a call or send us an e-mail to find out exactly what he could bring to your event.

How to book him?

Simply phone, fax or e-mail us.

Credentials

2014

Appointed a Conservative Life Peer in the House of Lords

2008

Honour of Knighthood for Services to the Retail Industry and to Corporate Social Responsibility

Chairman - Business in the Community

2006

Business Leader of the Year - World Leadership Forum

Topics

Corporate Sustainability

Environmental Issues

The M&S Story

Leadership

Customer Services

Creating Customer Loyalty