

Sue Barker MBE

The UK's Leading Female Sports Presenter

CSA Celebrity Speakers Ltd

Sue Barker has firmly established herself as the BBC's anchor for all of their main sports broadcasts fronting television coverage of The Olympics, Wimbledon, the Grand National, the London Marathon and Sports Personality of the Year. Sue is also the host presenter of the ever-popular sports quiz, A Question of Sport.

"Sue Barker is one of the UK's leading female sports presenters and an extraordinarily popular and much loved celebrity"

In detail

Many people forget the level to which Sue played professional tennis. In 1976, she was ranked Number 3 in the world and won a Major - The French Open. Sue still maintains close links with the sport socially as well as via her broadcasting career. She helped to present the 2012 Olympic Games for the BBC. Her experience in front of the camera in pressure situations enables her to deal with the corporate environment with the utmost professionalism. She was awarded an MBE by Her Majesty the Queen in 2007.

What she offers you

Away from television, Sue has created another career as a dynamic host for corporate events. This can range from scripted award ceremonies to facilitating conferences. Having gained a wealth of experience presenting world-class competitions, Sue also works with a select group of blue chip companies helping their promotional / marketing activities.

How she presents

Sue's bubbly, charismatic personality, easy manner and professionalism make her an ideal choice as an event host and she is always well received.
