

Thomas Ravelli

Former International Footballer

CSA Celebrity Speakers Ltd

Thomas Ravelli is without a doubt Sweden's best known and most celebrated former professional footballer. Thomas leapt to fame and made sporting history for his save in the penalty shootout against Romania in the 1994 World Cup in the United States, securing a bronze medal for Sweden. Thomas' 16 years on the national team and 143 national matches put him in a league of his own and have made him a football icon in Sweden.

Sweden's greatest ever footballer

In detail

Thomas was recently honoured in Sweden when he was included in a special edition of commemorative football player's stamps.

The players portrayed on the stamps were chosen to represent all the players who have worked hard to put Sweden on the map as a football-playing nation and inspired young men and women to follow in their footsteps.

What he offers you

Thomas is now a motivational speaker who uses his experiences learned on the pitch to inspire audiences to achieve their own goals both in their professional and private lives.

How he presents

An entertaining and charismatic character, his presentations are a subtle blend of humour and inspirational anecdotes honed from his experiences on the football pitch.
