

Amy McWhirter

Live & Hybrid Emcee, Virtual Emcee, Host, Speaker

"Your Audience Deserves to be Moved"

Amy McWhirter understands communication from the inside out. As content catalyst and experience instigator, Amy energises and inspires audiences to connect to the heart of messaging and act on-camera and at virtual, hybrid and live in-person conferences, award galas, and meetings. She's the soulful communicator and emcee who ties everything together, driving focus, messages, and business outcomes.

TOPICS:

- Event and Virtual Host
- Emcee
- Presenter
- Moderator

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

Amy's rich background in communications as live in-person MC, hybrid host, virtual emcee, corporate presenter, moderator, broadcast & TV host, awards host, video producer and scriptwriter creates the perfect blend of skills for Amy to integrate messaging, focusing on key takeaways and elevating the audience's experience. She hosted "Built to Last: The Green Home" docuseries on PBS. She's a super quick study with a Bachelor of Science in Biopsychology pre-med with Honors from University of Michigan. Industry specialties include technology, healthcare, manufacturing, finance and defense, and some notable clients include Honeywell, Salesforce, Infosys, KitchenAid, Samsung, and Award Galas for Label Awards, Shop Global, and Fierce Marketing.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Facilitating with passion and compassion, Amy moderates panels and discussions with warmth and depth, creates excitement, gracefully improvises with humour and personalises content for any events.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Amy is renowned for her warmly inviting, soulful, captivating energy that inspires audiences of all sizes to connect, engage and act. She creates cohesion and continuity, drives deeper engagement, and amplifies messaging so that audiences come way, energised and inspired.