

Bill Nye

The Science Guy

"To win was to live. To lose was to die!"

Bill Nye, scientist, engineer, comedian, author and inventor, is a man with a mission: to help foster a scientifically literate society, to help people everywhere understand and appreciate the science that makes our world work. Making science entertaining and accessible is something Bill has been doing most of his life.

IN DETAIL:

Bill Nye currently serves as CEO of the Planetary Society, a non-profit organisation that supports and promotes the continued exploration of space, a field Nye has directly contributed to through his development of the MarsDial, a sundial that was used to calibrate the Mars landers' Pancam cameras. Bill became the national spokesperson for science education due to his hit 1990s television show for children, Bill Nye the Science Guy and in 2017, he released his talk show Bill Nye Saves the World on Netflix examining current issues such as climate change or vaccinations through a scientific lens.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Bill speaks regularly about a variety of topical science matters. He fights to raise awareness of climate change and the value of critical thinking, science, and reason. Through all his work, Bill hopes to inspire people everywhere to change the world.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

With humour and intelligence, Bill Nye engages audiences with stories of science and obviously educating at the same time.
