

Bjørn Lomborg is President of the Copenhagen Consensus Centre, a think-tank that researches the smartest ways to do good. For this work, he was named one of TIME magazine?s 100 most influential people in the world. He is also a visiting Professor at Copenhagen Business School.

TOPICS:

- o The Truth about Global Warming
- o Climate Change
- o Environmentalism
- Sustainability
- Government and Contemporary Society
- Science, Technology and Nature
- The World's Biggest Problems and Challenges
- \circ Feeling Good vs. Doing Good

LANGUAGES:

Bjørn presents in English or Danish.

PUBLICATIONS:

2023 Best Things First

2021 False Alarm: How Climate
Change Panic Costs Us
Trillions, Hurts the Poor, and
Fails to Fix the Planet

2015 The Nobel Laureates Guide to the Smartest Targets for the World 2016-2030

2013 How Much Have Global Problems Cost the World?

2010 Cool It

IN DETAIL:

For his work, Bjørn Lomborg was named one of TIME magazine's 100 most influential people in the world. He is a visiting fellow at Stanford University's Hoover Institution and is a frequent commentator in print and broadcast media, for outlets including the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, The Guardian, CNN, FOX, and the BBC. His monthly column is published in many languages by dozens of influential newspapers across all continents.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

In his highly informative and well researched presentations Bjørn systematically examines today's most important global crises issues and offers sustainable solutions. His message is as simple as it is important.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Having spoken around the globe, Bjørn's presentations are filled with a host of real life examples as well as important and useful information delivered in an easily digested formula making him a highly sought after and prized speaker.