Clarke Carlisle

Former Chair PFA

"Widely regarded as one of the most eloquent professional footballers"

Clarke Carlisle is a TV and radio presenter and is noted as an eloquent, insightful voice of the modern game, gaining a great deal of acclaim and recognition in his work speaking up against racism, homophobia and other excesses of the game on and off the pitch.

TOPICS:

- After Dinner
- Motivation
- Host and Awards
- Sports
- Diversity

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

Diversity

IN DETAIL:

Clarke made his debut for Blackpool before moving to Queens Park Rangers. He then had spells at Leeds United and Watford before joining Burnley. In 2000 he was selected by Howard Wilkinson and won three caps for the England under-21s. He retired at the end of the 2012-2013 season after making over 500 appearances at senior level. Clarke has experienced the very highs of professional sport and was a successful chariman of the PFA (Professional Footballers' Association).Clarke has featured on news and sports programmes on ITV, Sky and the BBC, including Match of the Day 2.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Clarke talks about diversity and culture change in a game traditionally associated with macho behaviour. He offers a unique perspective on stories within the sport. He uses his expertise and insight to stimulate, motivate and inspire his audiences.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Clarke excels when talking of teamwork, overcoming challenges, winning and motivation. He tailors his talks to the occasion and takes any requirements needed for his clients into careful consideration.