

Colin MacLachlan

Former SAS Soldier

"Mental strength isn't something we're simply born with, we can train our minds like we can train our bodies"

Colin MacLachlan is a former SAS soldier with more than 25 years of security and risk related experience. He is best known for appearing in Channel 4's Who Dares Wins and Channel 5's Secrets of the SAS.

TOPICS:

- Motivation
- Resilience
- Planning
- Teamwork
- Performance
- Determination
- Leadership
- Risk

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

2016 The Pilgrim

IN DETAIL:

Colin left the SAS shortly after doing an exchange programme with both Delta Force and Seal Team 6 and after doing security consultancy for the Saudi Royal Family, A-List Celebrities and US Media Networks. He decided to fund himself through university where he attained a First Class MA (Hons.) in History and an M.Litt in Terrorism. He is now involved in TV, Book, Radio and Video Games and also does a lot with charity being involved as Ambassador for the Lee Rigby Foundation, Pilgrim Bandits, Veterans Garage and NSPCC among others. Colin has also just founded his own charity Who Dares Cares that aims to link and support veterans as well as others that encounter stress. As well as local community issues, he writes and edits articles on military and terrorism, and also risk consultancy on a project basis.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Former SAS man Colin MacLachlan endured some of the most daring operations to date and aside from TV, Book, and Video game work, speaks on motivation, resilience, planning, elite performance and determination.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Having had both an exciting and varied career, Colin is an excellent speaker on a wide variety of topics. He is also an experienced presenter and host for events.