

Ed Stafford

Explorer, Writer, Amazon Man

Ed's Amazon accomplishment has been described by Sir Ranulph Fiennes as being "in the top league of expeditions past and present"

Ed Stafford became the first person to walk the entire length of the Amazon River. His adventure has been described as one of the most dangerous and difficult expeditions ever undertaken encountering venomous snakes, severe floods, electric eels, jaguars and hostile local tribes.

TOPICS:

- Courage and Decision Making
- Making the Impossible Possible
- Achieving Your Own Goals
- Motivation
- The Journey; How To Get To The End and Make It Count

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English or Spanish.

PUBLICATIONS:

- 2022 Podcast: Dangerous Minds with Ed Stafford
- 2019 Expeditions Unpacked
- 2018 Adventures for a Lifetime
- 2015 Naked and Marooned: One Man. One Island
- 2011 Walking the Amazon

IN DETAIL:

Ed Stafford filmed and blogged his deadly journey and engaged followers all over the world for two and a half years. His extraordinary expedition garnered widespread attention, making headlines in over 900 articles and appearing on all major news channels in both the UK and the United States. With his mission accomplished, Stafford's saga of resilience, courage, and unwavering determination in the face of adversity earned him accolades such as being hailed as "Britain's most intrepid hero since Scott of the Antarctic" by The Daily Mail and dubbed "A true hero" by The Times. His footage was adapted into a Discovery Channel documentary and was sold to over 100 countries.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Ed uses his experiences to inspire and motivate audiences to achieve their own personal goals and shows that it is possible to succeed even when faced with seemingly insurmountable hardship.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

His presentations are a mix of narrative and pictorial anecdotes with documentary footage filmed by Ed himself in the jungle. He takes the audience with him back to the jungle via his presentation and helps to inspire them to see life ahead as an adventure ready to begin.