

Jeremy Howick

Health Communication Leader

"The science of empathy for better business and care."

Jeremy Howick is a world-renowned researcher, bestselling author, professor, and keynote speaker specialising in empathy, wellbeing, evidence-based medicine, and healthcare innovation. This internationally respected speaker helps organisations understand how trust, human connection, and science can transform leadership, resilience, patient care, and performance in an increasingly AI-driven world.

TOPICS:

- Empathetic Leadership
- Beyond Medicine
- Artificial Empathy
- The Science of Placebos, Nocebos & Healing
- Evidence-based Medicine

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

- 2023 The Power of Placebos
2017 Doctor You

IN DETAIL:

Professor Jeremy Howick is the founding Director of the Stoneygate Centre for Empathic Healthcare and previously co-founded the Oxford Empathy Programme at University of Oxford. An internationally recognised authority on empathy, placebo science, and evidence-based medicine, this leading keynote speaker has published more than 250 peer-reviewed papers and authored bestselling books including Doctor You. His work has earned recognition from the British Medical Association and the European Society for Person-Centred Healthcare, while his research has been featured by BBC, ITV, Channel 4, NPR, and other international media.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Professor Jeremy Howick delivers evidence-based keynote presentations on empathic leadership, resilience, workplace wellbeing, evidence-based medicine, AI in healthcare, and the science of trust. This engaging speaker provides practical strategies that help leaders improve communication, reduce burnout, strengthen organisational culture, and create healthier, higher-performing teams through empathy and human-centred leadership.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Jeremy is an engaging, thought-provoking speaker who combines world-class research with humour, storytelling, and practical tools. His presentations are evidence-based, interactive, and tailored to inspire lasting behavioural change.