

Klisman Murati

Geoeconomic Strategist

"A sharp and unconventional thinker"

Klisman Murati is a leading geoeconomic strategist and the founder of Pareto Economics, known for redefining how global affairs are analysed and understood. He is the creator of the Global Power Index (GPI), one of the most advanced proprietary models of country development, built on over 30 years of longitudinal data across 194 countries and a highly sought-after speaker on these topics.

TOPICS:

- Geoeconomics and Global Power Shifts
- Rethinking Globalisation and "Emerging Markets"
- Strategic Foresight and Risk Intelligence
- First-Principles Thinking in Decision-Making
- The Impact of AI, Technology, and Protectionism on Global Balance
- Capital Allocation in a Fragmented World

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

His work sits at the intersection of geopolitics, economics, technology, and societal change. By applying first-principles thinking combined with rigorous data analysis, Murati challenges widely accepted narratives, such as "multipolarity" or "emerging markets", revealing the blind spots that often lead to poor strategic decisions. His insights as a speaker have proven predictive and actionable, from forecasting major geopolitical shifts to identifying structural economic trends before they materialise. Governments, investors, and global corporations rely on his frameworks to gain a clearer, more accurate view of the world. He has reached audiences in over 120 countries, with more than 850 million TV viewership and 250+ published articles.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Klisman delivers sharp, data-driven insights that challenge conventional thinking and reshape how organisations understand global risk, opportunity, and power dynamics. His keynotes equip leaders with the tools to anticipate change, allocate capital more effectively, and build resilient, future-ready strategies in an increasingly volatile world.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

As a keynote speaker, Klisman is known for being intellectually provocative, highly analytical, and deeply engaging. He challenges audiences to question assumptions and rethink long-held beliefs, while translating complex global dynamics into clear, business-relevant insights.