

Liam Halligan

Award-Winning Economics Commentator and Broadcaster

"One of the UK's leading broadcasters in the field of business and economics"

Liam Halligan is a prestigious economist, writer, and broadcaster with extensive business experience. He is best known for his weekly Economics Agenda column in The Sunday Telegraph which enjoys a large international following and has been recognised with a highly-coveted British Press Award.

TOPICS:

- UK, European and Global Economic Issues
- Current Affairs
- Politics
- Financial Issues

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

2019	Home Truths: The UK's Chronic Housing Shortage - How It Happened, Why It Matters and The Way To Solve It
2018	Clean Brexit: Why Leaving the EU Still Makes Sense - Building a Post-Brexit Economy for All (Co-Author)

IN DETAIL:

Liam is also Editor-at-Large and columnist at Business New Europe, a leading source of English-language business, economics and political news and analysis covering 30 countries in Central, Eastern and Southeast Europe and the Former Soviet Union. He was Chief Economist at Prosperity Capital Management, the world's largest Russia/CIS-focused asset manager, controlling investments worth over $4bn for a range of institutional clients from Europe, the US and the Middle East. A regular commentator on global economic affairs for the BBC, CNN, CNBC, Sky, LBC Radio, Liam also frequently appears on flagship programs such as BBC1's Question Time, This Week, Daily Politics and BBC Radio 4's Today.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Liam provides insightful and accurate insights and analysis on economic, financial and political issues. Liam's vast range of experience and expertise in the fields of economics, politics and Europe ensures he is a proficient and esteemed keynote and conference speaker.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

A thought-provoking and well-argued speaker, Liam specialises in presenting complex subjects to general audiences in an interesting and accessible way.