

Lucy Porter

Comedian and Writer

"One of the most sought after comedy writer's in Britain"

Lucy Porter has been a huge hit with comedy audiences for over ten years with her distinctive, bouncy, feel-good comedy. She has gathered a strong following and excellent reputation on the live circuit. Away from comedy, Lucy starred alongside Christian Slater in the stage version of One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest.

TOPICS:

- Entertainment
- Comedy
- Awards and Host

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

A finalist on Channel 4's So You Think You're Funny?, Lucy is a regular on Radio 4 panel and comedy shows, and has also appeared a number of times on Have I Got News For You and Mock the Week. She has also appeared on Newsnight and The Culture Show, Celebrity editions of Pointless and Mastermind, and has written for Johnny Vaughan, Adam and Joe, and Jimmy Tarbuck. Lucy has also moved into the world of film and has a feature script on the development slate at leading Brit film company Warp X. She has also contributed to various publications as a columnist, including City AM, Cook Vegetarian Magazine and Mother & Baby.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

There's always a philosophical element to Lucy's shows, covering the topics that matter in her life. Lucy has a warm and witty style and delivers her thoughts and observations on life, love and how odd the world can be like a long-standing and sometimes indiscrete friend.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Lucy is a comedian whose bright and bubbly persona can win over any audience. She is a huge hit with audiences up and down the country with her distinctive, bouncy, feel-good comedy.