

Lucy Siegle

Broadcaster and Financial Commentator

"An authority on the environmental and social footprint of the global fashion industry"

Lucy Siegle is a UK based journalist and broadcaster, eco expert and opinion leader who specialises in climate and nature issues. In 2020, Lucy was announced as Head Judge for Our Planet, the very first dedicated power list devoted to acknowledging women who are making a significant positive contribution to the environment or sustainability of the planet.

TOPICS:

- o Sustainable Fashion
- o Environment
- o Nature Issues
- o Climate Change
- o Social Justice
- o Ethical Consumerism
- o Current Affairs
- o Conference Moderator

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

- 2018 Turning the Tide on Plastic
2011 To Die For

IN DETAIL:

Lucy has a decade of experience as the Observer and Guardian's Ethical Living columnist, set up the Observer Ethical Awards, as well as writing for Marie Claire, Elle and Grazia. She regularly appears on television and radio, is The One Show's (BBC1) resident environment expert. Lucy founded the Green Carpet Challenge with Livia Firth to address consumption and sustainability in the fashion industry and has worked on environments projects with Emma Watson and Ellie Goulding. She recently chaired a panel of some of the world's most exciting plastic activists planning a post-plastic future at the third UN Environment Assembly in Kenya.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Known for her playful, warm authority, Lucy Siegle has worked across all UK channels on different formats and themes and draws on her impressive knowledge and experience on the speaking circuit. In her presentations, she explores the problem of single-use plastic and wider ecological issues.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Lucy excels as a speaker, host and facilitator, known for her humour and rapport with contributors and audiences.