

Nadine Dereza

Business Presenter & Conference Host/Facilitator

"Public speaking isn't something that comes naturally – though the best speakers manage to make it look that way."

Nadine Dereza is an award-winning business and finance presenter who currently hosts for CNBC and has previously worked for CNN, SABC, BBC and Sky TV. As London Markets Correspondent for Financial Times and Summit TV, she was awarded 'Financial Journalist of the Year'.

TOPICS:

- Artificial Intelligence
- Business, Finance & Economics
- Digital Transformation
- Global Economy
- Environment, Net Zero & Sustainability
- News & The Media
- Crisis Media Management
- Event Moderator

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

2014 Insider Secrets of Public Speaking

IN DETAIL:

Nadine currently presents CNBC's IoT: Powering the Digital Economy, a programme investigating how smart environments are disrupting and shaping different industries. She also produces and presents The Television Podcast for the Royal Television Society London, featuring discussions and reviews of the biggest television events and news stories. Nadine chairs, hosts and moderates conferences, panel discussions and live events face-to-face and virtually for a diverse range of clients in the UK and internationally. As Media Director and founder of Babaco Media, she prepares clients for media interviews, public appearances, crisis planning and parliamentary committee hearings.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Knowledgeable on many topics, industries and sectors, Nadine is an experienced and accomplished corporate host and moderator, adept at exploring the latest business developments and trends. She possesses the unique ability to simplify complex business and technology concepts, making them accessible to all. With her extensive insights gained from collaborating with renowned global organisations and governments.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Nadine's warm and engaging manner allows her to delve into complex topics effortlessly. Her professionalism and effervescent personality will ensure that your live event is highly successful.