Paul Miller

CEO and Founder of the Digital Workplace Group

One of world's top 50 Social Employee Advocacy Leaders

Paul Miller is CEO and Founder of the Digital Workplace Group, described by Oracle as "phenomenon in its industry". He provides visionary yet practical insights into the digital future of work for many leading organisations and has been at the heart of the work and technology revolution for the last 20 years.

TOPICS:

- Artificial Intelligence
- What Does an Intelligent A.I. Workplace Look Like?
- Leadership in the New Digital Workplace Era – from Dictator to Influencer
- How the Digital Workplace Changes the Physical Workplace
- The New Demographics of Work – Freelancing The Enterprise
- What the Digital Future of Work Will Be
- The New Digital Work Ethic – The Digital Renaissance of Work

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

2014	The Digital Renaissance of Work
2012	The Digital Workplace: How Technology is Liberating Work

IN DETAIL:

Paul was Founder and CEO of the communications company The Empowerment Group, Publisher and Editor of social and digital innovation magazine Wave – and in pre-internet days, co-founder of the Ideas Cafe salon. He was recently ranked as one of the world's top 50 Social Employee Advocacy Leaders and was a Judge and Mentor for the Duke of York (Inspiring Digital Enterprise Awards). For five years Paul hosted the pioneering internet radio show Digital Workplace Live and is Executive Producer of the 24-hour global digital experience Digital Workplace 24. He hosts the industry podcast Digital Workplace Impact. Paul has given many inspirational talks on the digital future of work, for audiences at Microsoft, IKEA, Google, Accenture, Harvard Business Review, Cisco, European Commission, Adobe and Oxford University.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

His powerful visions and examples from a host of household name companies stimulates intense discussion among leaders and teams on the future shape of work, collaboration and the role of the physical workplaces in a digital world. He makes the digital world of work come to life in a refreshing, inspiring and challenging style.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Paul explains in a powerful and inspiring narrative how every aspect of work is being transformed in a clear, story based way. He has the ability to make complex issues easy to absorb and his thought provoking presentations are peppered with plenty of humour.

© 2026 Celebrity Speakers Ltd