

Mr. Ranga Yogeshwar

Science-Journalist, Writer and Presenter for WDR German TV

"One of Germany's most recognisable television personalities"

Ranga Yogeshwar is one of Germany's leading science journalists, well known for moderating such programs Quarks&Co, Wissen vor 8 and various science programs. He is the former head of the science department of WDR German TV and has overseen the production of various popular science programs as producer and presenter of some 1000 popular science programs.

TOPICS:

- Presenter
- Moderator
- Awards
- The Relationship Between Science, Technology and Culture
- Popularisation of Science
- Innovation
- Education
- Knowledge Propagation

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English and German.

PUBLICATIONS:

2022 Big Business

IN DETAIL:

Ranga has received more than 60 professional awards and has been honoured many times over, including honorary doctorates from the universities of Wuppertal and Koblenz, an honorary professorship from Bonn-Rhein-Sieg University of Applied Sciences, the Federal Cross of Merit of the Federal Republic of Germany, the Order of Merit of the State of North Rhine-Westphalia, and the Ordre de Mérite du Grand-Duché de Luxembourg. He obtained his degree of Diplomphysiker at Aachen University with specialisation in Experimental Particle Physics and Astrophysics. He complemented this by working at the Swiss Institute for Nuclear Research, at the CERN in Geneva and at the Research Centre, Jülich. Ranga is an experienced speaker and presenter engaged in many international projects and member of boards in the fields of Innovation, Education and Knowledge Propagation.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Ranga Yogeshwar is a highly experienced speaker and moderator, impressing audiences with his science and his AI expertise.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Ranga is in demand at events whether moderating, hosting, presenting or handing out awards.