

Ross Noble

Award-winning Comedian

"A natural comic with an instinctive gift for a vivid image – for once, it is not hype to use the words 'comic genius'" Evening Standard

Ross Noble is an international powerhouse of comedy, an award-winning stand-up comedian and television presenter. Ross is instantly recognisable for his many appearances on shows such as QI, Have I got News For You and Alan Davies' As Yet Untitled.

TOPICS:

- Comedy
- Host
- Entertainment

LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

Geordie Ross has been performing stand-up since he was smuggled in to his local comedy club at the age of 15. Ross has made appearances on BBC 1's Have I Got News For You and makes regular contributions to BBC Radio 4's Just a Minute and I'm Sorry I Haven't a Clue. He is now perhaps the most successful cult comedian of our time, with a loyal fan base derived largely from the 'word-of-mouth' recommendations of those having seen him perform live. He is a former Perrier Award nominee and a Time Out award winner for best live stand-up and has won a shed load of other prestigious awards and nominations. His worldwide travels as a stand-up have been the subject of his own BBC Radio 4 series *Ross Noble Goes Globa*le.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Described as the funniest comedian in Britain at the moment, Ross Noble offers audiences a truly unique experience and there is more than a touch of comic virtuosity about his performance. His show ranges from his delicious impersonation of absurdly jaunty sailors in movie musicals to the monkeys that seem to obsess his imagination.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Known for improvising vast swathes of his act from night to night depending on what, or more likely, who, sparks his fertile imagination, Ross' show consists of routines he has worked out in advance coupled with inspired flights of improvisation involving the audience.

© 2026 Celebrity Speakers Ltd