Sandi Toksvig

Leading British Comedienne, Actor & Writer

"Sandi is passionate about live performance"

Sandi Toksvig is a leading British comedienne, actor and writer. Sandi is well known to UK audiences as a broadcaster and a popular face on television including celebrated fame on Call My Bluff (as regular team captain) and Whose Line Is It Anyway? She was also host of Antiques Master for BBC2 and 1001 Things You Should Know for Channel 4.

TOPICS:

- After Dinner
- Host
- Awards
- Entertainment

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

PUBLICATIONS:

2017	Silver Lining
2014	Peas & Queues
2013	Valentine Grey
2006	Melted into Air
2005	Hitler's Canary

IN DETAIL:

Sandi began her comedy career at Girton College, Cambridge where she found time to write and perform in the first all-woman show at the Footlights as well as achieve a first class degree. She performed at the very first night of The Comedy Store in London and for many years was a member of The Comedy Store Players, an improvisational comedy team. Much of Sandi's time is devoted to writing. For the theatre Sandi co-authored the musical Big Night Out at the Little Palace Theatre, the Shakespeare deconstruction, The Pocket Dream which transferred to the West End and Charity Begins for Playhouse Live. Her play Bully Boy starring Anthony Andrews was the opening production at the new St James' Theatre in London in September 2012. Sandi is also a familiar voice for BBC Radio 4 listeners as the chair of The News Quiz and was inducted into the Radio Hall of Fame.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Sandi is a voice of reason, an instigator of change through humour, laughter, and social responsibility. A familiar face on the British screen she is well used to the pressures of a live audience. She has a laid back style and a razor sharp wit that leaves audiences truly entertained.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Sandi is a highly accomplished conference and awards presenter, as well as a very funny after dinner speaker.

© 2026 Celebrity Speakers Ltd