

Sarah Begum

Adventurer & Humanitarian

"When cultural barriers arise, we build bridges. We need to unite as a planet to fight the climate crisis."

Sarah Begum is a passionate Adventurer, Humanitarian and TV presenter who has explored remote parts of the world, surviving jungles, deserts, mountains and caves to live with indigenous and remote tribes documenting important human and environmental stories with impact whilst becoming a pioneering face of exploration.

TOPICS:

- Sustainability Stories from the Amazon Rain Forest
- How to Save the World by Yourself
- Climate Justice
- ESG Strategies
- Bengali Rebel
- Exploration and Empathy
- Space

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

Sarah is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society. Her first film, "Amazon Souls", where she hunted and gathered with the Huaorani tribe and was made a real life Amazon Warrior Queen advocate for preserving the jungle premiered at Cannes Film Festival and is distributed worldwide. Sarah has won many awards including the Spirit of Adventure Award by Captain Scott Society, was highlighted by The Guardian newspaper as The World's Top 17 trailblazer. She is the Host of Spaced Out!, a podcast and TV series about the Space industry interviewing leading figures from investors to astronauts to educate the masses about the inner workings of the business behind Space ventures, which has also featured on Space Channel.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Sarah delivers ground breaking interesting content from her adventures around the world including documentaries, humanitarian missions, anthropological studies on indigenous tribes and surviving some of the most dangerous parts of the world.

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Sarah's presentations inform, educate, entertain and inspire people about the world. She is in great demand as a speaker around the globe by audiences eager to hear her inspirational message.