IN DETAIL:

The name Quinnell and rugby go hand in hand, following in the footsteps of his British Lion father Derek, (younger brothers Craig and Gavin were to follow also) Scott's passion for the sport has made him one of its best-known figures. Scott currently works in the media, he occasionally works for Sky Sports, Real Radio, The One Show, A Question of Sport, Soccer am and has just finished making the series of School of Hard Knocks. Scott also has done column work for the newspapers and currently does motivational speeches for the workplace and after dinner speaking all over the world. He has also appeared on radio and tv covering events such as Rugby World Cups and Lions tours.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Scott was born dyslexic, but was not diagnosed until his early 30's. Having undertaken a series of therapies to resolve the condition, he is now a popular speaker on the matter. With his rugby and life experience combined, he makes a fantastic and moving speaker.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Scott captivates his audiences with his very inspirational stories. His speeches are full of encouragement and hope and inspire people never to give up and to pursue continuous lifelong learning.
