

Stella English

Winner of BBC One's The Apprentice

"I'm ready to move on to the next phase of my life. My career is just beginning"

Stella English is instantly recognisable as the 6th winner of the BBC series The Apprentice. The majority of her career was spent working on City trading floors where she rose the ladder into Senior Management and became fully qualified to trade securities and derivatives.

TOPICS:

- Awards
- Presenter
- The Apprentice - "A Winning Attitude"
- Entrepreneurial Spirit
- Motivational Speech Based on Life Story
- Achieving your Goals

IN DETAIL:

Her early years were spent in Thamesmead, a sprawling council estate in London. She left school with no qualifications, but at the time of entering The Apprentice had become Head of Business Management on the trading floor of a Japanese investment bank. Due to pure drive, ambition and self belief Stella has built an extremely successful career in business, against all odds coming from such a deprived background. She now runs her own management consultancy servicing large technology clients troubleshooting and managing strategic initiatives. In 2014 she became the presenter for an exciting new crowdfunding channel 'CrowdBox TV'. Stella's resilience and determination to succeed are obvious as she continues to go from strength to strength.

LANGUAGES:

She presents in English.

WHAT SHE OFFERS YOU:

Stella English shares with audiences her experiences on the BBC programme, women in the events industry and her career so far. She is an enthusiastic and highly motivated speaker always up for a challenge!

HOW SHE PRESENTS:

Stella is an incredibly inspiring, humorous and versatile speaker. She will charm any audience with her quick wit and warm engaging manner.