IN DETAIL:

Stephen Lawrence (13 September 1974 – 22 April 1993) was a black British teenager from Woolwich, South-East London, who was murdered in a racially motivated attack while waiting for a bus in Well Hall, Eltham on the evening of 22nd April 1993. The family's tireless campaign for justice for their son led to cultural shifts and changes of attitude towards racism within British society, the law and the Metropolitian Police Force. This fight and their story is still as impactful and important today.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Stuart shares his story, experiences and presents messages of hope and tolerance to a variety of audiences. Stuart provides Q&A alongside his keynotes, covering a range of topics.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Stuart has a unique and highly emotive story which has always been used to pave the way for change and will continue to do so.
