LANGUAGES:

He presents in English.

IN DETAIL:

Tariq is a Harvard alumni who started his career as a lowly customer support executive. He grew through the ranks and worked his way up and built an illustrious background working with top organisations like Dow Jones Markets, The Times & Sunday Times and more recently Bloomberg Media. He has helped organisations go from half a million a year to $100 million a year and lead organisations with revenues of greater than $350 million, working across global markets. After achieving great success in the corporate world, Tariq went through a 'tombstone exercise', being asked to write his legacy in 1999 and again in 2012. That had a huge impact in his personal transformation & life's purpose. He discovered his true values and his reason for being. He is the CEO and Founder of MAD Talks, a digital content and storytelling platform that brings together some of the best minds of the region and globally.

WHAT HE OFFERS YOU:

Tariq's mission is to help transform businesses through empowerment and personal development, and to reach a billion kids for learning and development to thrive in this exponential world. He brings in proven methodologies, experiences, and insights with a deep understanding on creating and implementing an innovation engine for your organisation to help you prepare for and thrive in the future.

HOW HE PRESENTS:

Tariq's inspiring and exciting sessions are invaluable sources of actionable information. He is thought provoking and highly creative.
